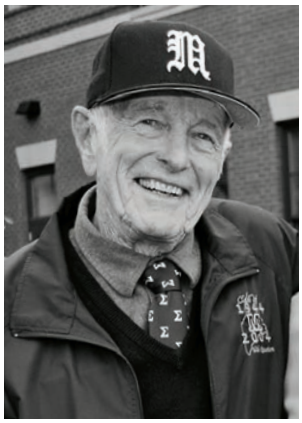
2013–14 ANNUAL REPORT OF PRIVATE GIVING

1865 THE UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

Celebrating 150 years



ALVIN "AL" MCNEILLY '44 made gifts to the University of Maine over more than 39 consecutive years prior to his death on June 19, 2014. His lifetime giving totaled more than $800,000, including generous matches from his longtime employer, ExxonMobil. UMaine established the Loyal M Society in 2013 to recognize donors like McNeilly, whose faithful giving has made a tremendous difference to the state's land grant university.

A committed volunteer, McNeilly served as president of both the University of Maine Alumni Association and the President's Development Council. More recently, he initiated a "class adoption program," in which the Class of 1944 mentored the Class of 2010, sharing UMaine traditions that cross generations.

"It's hard to imagine a more loyal alumnus than Al," says Todd Saucier, president of the University of Maine Alumni Association. "Al was very involved at UMaine as a student through his membership in Kappa Sigma, Sophomore Owls and Senior Skulls, and as treasurer and vice president of his class. His leadership was also evident in his service as captain of the baseball team. Al credited UMaine for much of his professional and personal success, and was truly one of a kind in his enthusiasm for our university."

"From our first moments on campus, Al charged us to make the most of our time at UMaine and to leave an impact on the school well after we graduated. His commitment to the university for a full 70 years as an alumnus inspires all who knew Al or were touched by his efforts." Matt Ciampa '10

HONORING OUR PAST, SHAPING OUR FUTURE

University of Maine 1956

LETTER FROM PRESIDENT SUSAN J. HUNTER

"The prevailing themes of generosity and opportunity translate into a history worth celebrating, and a future that we can embrace together."

President Susan J. Hunter

It is truly a pleasure to share the University of Maine's annual report of private giving, which highlights just a few of the many generous alumni and friends who have made a tremendous difference to our university. I have been fortunate to meet many of those who are highlighted in this report, and I deeply appreciate the opportunity to spend time with such thoughtful and accomplished individuals.

This report serves as a reminder that we are at a special point in UMaine's history, celebrating its 150th, or sesquicentennial, anniversary. Most of us are stunned by how much has changed since 1865 and by how the rate of change only seems to accelerate. Our research programs are marked by technology and knowledge that were unimaginable years ago. Our approach to teaching and learning, and the types of educational opportunities available to our students, have also changed dramatically.

Several themes prevail in the face of constant change. First is the theme of generosity. For well over a century, the generosity of our alumni and friends has shaped us as a university, and transformed the quality of experience we can provide to UMaine students and other constituents. A second theme, linked to the first, is opportunity. You, our donors, create opportunities every day, changing lives on and well beyond our campus. The prevailing themes of generosity and opportunity translate into a history worth celebrating and a future that we can embrace together.

With gratitude,

Susan J. Hunter
President

LETTER FROM JEFFERY N. MILLS AND ERIC F. ROLFSON

Jeffery N. Mills '82

Eric F. Rolfson

Dear Friends,

Most of you reading this year's annual report of private giving have long ties to the state of Maine and its land and sea grant university, the University of Maine. Whether you are reading this report from a farm in Aroostook County, a retirement community on our beautiful coast or a financial services firm in Manhattan, we encourage you to consider just how far our university has come since 1865.

Our 150th anniversary provides a unique vantage point from which we can consider not only our past, but perhaps, more important, our future. Over the next year, we look forward to a number of special events that celebrate the generous and thoughtful individuals who have made UMaine what it is and who will continue to shape its future.

Standing with one foot in the past and another in the future, it is important that we ask ourselves the questions of a lifetime. What will our legacy be? How will we influence the future of the sons and daughters of Maine? Such questions are both daunting and exhilarating, and will shape not only our university, but the lives of our students and the quality of life for thousands of Maine citizens.

Yours for the University of Maine,

Dan '63 and Betty Churchill

"Our lives are given to us for so much more than just (personal) advancement. If we haven't given to the world around us, we haven't lived our lives fully." Dan Churchill '63

A Shared Commitment

Daniel "Dan" '63 and Betty Churchill have made "experiences of a lifetime" possible for more than 50 graduate students involved in UMaine's School of Policy and International Affairs (SPIA) and the Climate Change Institute (CCI). Their philanthropy has allowed graduate students to travel far from Orono on more than 70 trips to conduct research and further their education.

In 2005, the Churchills launched the Churchill Exploration Fund at CCI, funding graduate students to carry out research in field sites far from Maine — from Pamir to Peru, Antarctica to Asia.

In 2009, they began funding a new program, the Churchill Internship, to help SPIA students spend time at organizations as varied as Somali refugee camps in Kenya, Mercy Corps in Timor-Leste, the United Nations in New York City, and the African Center for Strategic Studies in Washington, D.C., among others.

Dan Churchill currently serves as the chair of the SPIA Board of Advisors, where he is actively engaged in working with the director to grow the program and create global opportunities for UMaine students.

The Churchills' involvement with graduate students is extraordinary and has resulted in many friendships, as well as professional mentoring.The University of Maine recognized their shared commitment to graduate study by presenting them with a Stillwater Presidential Award in June 2014.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MAINE'S federally funded Antarctic science program, one of the most active in the United States, traces its beginnings, in part, to a 1960 research trip to the southern continent. Robert Nichols (far left), who taught geology at Tufts University, inspired generations of students to study Antarctica's ice sheets and landforms. Those students included Harold Borns and George Denton (second and third from the left, respectively), who became two of UMaine's leading scientists. Borns and Denton met on this expedition, pulling sleds and making observations in the Transantarctic Mountains.

"Our Welcome Weekend Day of Service gives students an opportunity to bond while providing assistance to community organizations. Many students continue to volunteer both in our area and around the world. We hope we are creating service habits that last a lifetime."

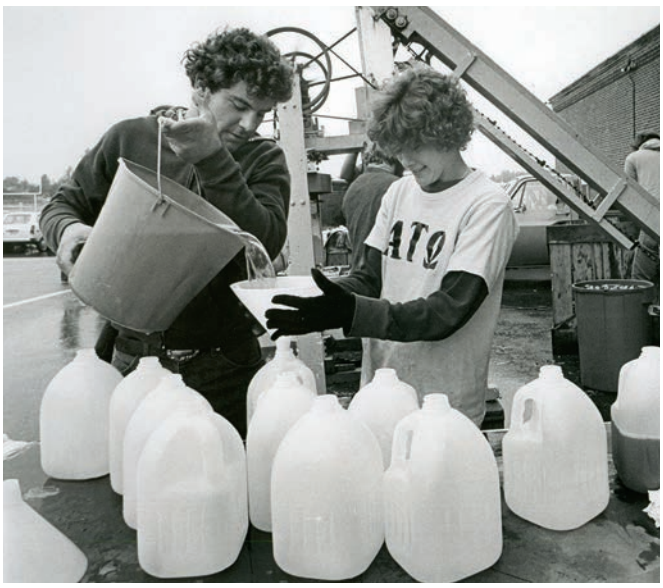
Lisa Morin, Coordinator, Bodwell Center for Student Service and Volunteerism

Volunteer Service

As a land grant university, UMaine has a mission that encompasses teaching, research and public service. The concept of students reaching out to communities, near and far, has gained significant traction in recent years. Private support has played an important role in many service projects involving UMaine undergraduates. Such support is especially important to students who wish to travel abroad as part of their service to others.

Many UMaine undergraduates have their first experience helping local communities through the Bodwell Center for Service and Volunteerism's Welcome Weekend Day of Service. In August 2013, 1,800 first-year students participated in community projects, donating nearly 4,000 hours of service. Community service continues through specific courses and as part of groups such as Alternative Breaks, Engineers Without Borders, UMaine Nursing International and the Maine Business School's MBS Corps. Fraternities, sororities and sports teams are also involved in outreach, particularly to local youths.

"Companies, individuals and even foundations make many of these experiences possible for our students," says Eric Rolfson, vice president for development and alumni relations. "Volunteer opportunities can change us forever, especially when they take place far from home and all that is familiar to us."



Greek Letter Society volunteer service

The University of Maine has many programs that help combat local and global hunger. During Welcome Weekend 2014 alone, students prepared 20,000 fortified rice meals that were sent to El Salvador and 2,500 family-style meals for local food pantries.

John Huard '67

"John makes a big difference to our programs with his generous philanthropy and enthusiasm for engaging teammates and athletics fans in general." Karlton Creech, Director of Athletics

Celebrating Athletic Performance and Personal Generosity

John Huard '67 was one of the Black Bears' most successful linebackers. His athletic prowess was most recently recognized when the National Football Foundation and its board of directors announced his selection as a member of the 2014 College Football Hall of Fame class. Huard is the first Black Bear to receive college football's highest honor. Of the more than 5 million who have played and coached in college football, just over 1,000 individuals in the history of the sport have earned entrance into the College Football Hall of Fame.

Huard's commitment to athletics and his alma mater has taken him well beyond what is now Morse Field and Alfond Stadium in Orono. A two-time first team All-American, he guided UMaine to the Tangerine Bowl in 1965. Named one of the top 20 athletes in Maine by Sports Illustrated, he was the first football player inducted into the Maine Sports Hall of Fame ('86) and the first member of Alfond Stadium's Ring of Honor.

His career includes years with the National and Canadian (professional) football leagues, as well as coaching. Beyond the playing field, Huard is an active member with the National Football Foundation's State of Maine Chapter and volunteers with both the Boys and Girls Clubs, and the Susan Curtis Foundation.

A loyal and engaged alumnus, Huard has been a generous donor to the UMaine football program, the Carol S. and Walter H. Abbott scholarship, athletic scholarships in general, the Wesley D. Jordan Fund, and other needs within UMaine Athletics. He is a member of the M Club, and he and his wife, Helen, are members of the President's Club and the Stillwater Society.

"I was fortunate to get a solid foundation in accounting and finance here at UMaine. I hope that this new laboratory will bring a Wall Street environment to UMaine students." Gerard S. Cassidy '80

Bringing Wall Street to Orono

As managing director of equity research with RBC Capital Markets, Gerard S. Cassidy '80 conducts bank and regional economic research for clients around the world. He is the creator of the Texas Ratio used to determine the financial health of a bank, and is often quoted in the national media.

Cassidy, who has a bachelor's degree in business administration from UMaine, wants to help ensure that students in the Maine Business School have exposure to the same tools that they will eventually use as professional investors. He made a generous gift to name the Gerard S. Cassidy '80 Capital Markets Training Laboratory. The new facility in the D.P. Corbett Business Building features Bloomberg data feeds, which have earned an international reputation as the most powerful and flexible platform for financial professionals who need real-time data, news and analytics with which to make the best possible business decisions.

Cassidy, who grew up on Long Island, made the decision to return to Maine at the urging of his wife, Elaine Conley Cassidy '80, a Maine native with many family members who remain in the state. "We are very blessed to live and work where we do," he says. "Moving to Maine was one of the best decisions we ever made. With today's technology, I can easily connect with colleagues and clients around the world and, at the same time, my children have benefitted from all that Maine has to offer."

Cassidy's UMaine experience was shaped by more than accounting and finance. He is quick to point to the benefits of being a member of the UMaine football team, which is what brought him to Maine as an undergraduate. "My career has definitely benefitted from a competitive nature and a commitment to hard work that is ingrained in athletes," he notes. "Much of life is about perseverance, and investing is no exception to this."

The Gerard S. Cassidy '80 Capital Markets Training Laboratory in the D.P. Corbett Business Building was dedicated in September.

Grant Standbrook and Red Gendron '93G

"We have always been a family here at Maine and families rally to take care of their own." Red Gendron '93G, Head Coach, Men's Ice Hockey

Maine Hockey Forever Fund

Formerly an assistant coach under Shawn Walsh, Dennis "Red" Gendron '93G returned to Orono as UMaine's head men's ice hockey coach in 2013. Soon after his arrival, Gendron grasped the importance of philanthropy to the future of the UMaine hockey program and established the Grant Standbrook Maine Hockey Forever Fund, honoring a former assistant coach and recruiting coordinator.

Gendron's annual contribution, which represents a generous percentage of his salary, creates a new endowment for hockey at the University of Maine Foundation and honors an old friend whose coaching record speaks for itself. In his 18 seasons at UMaine, Grant Standbrook helped the Black Bears to two NCAA championships, 11 Frozen Fours and a 493-216-66 record. His overall coaching record points to further success: He has coached 34 All-Americans and 10 Olympians, won three NCAA titles as an assistant at the University of Wisconsin, and has coached 68 players who went on to compete in the NHL.

"I am confident that former Black Bear players and coaches will choose to join me in contributing to the Grant Standbrook Fund," says Gendron. "Everyone who has ever been a part of UMaine hockey knows that it takes financial support to compete successfully on a national stage. Everyone knows that we need both an endowment and a strong annual giving program."

An early UMaine men's ice hockey team practiced and played outdoors in the Maine winter.

"The University of Maine and Farm Credit are committed not only to economic prosperity and environmental stewardship, but also to preserving Maine's unique rural nature and quality of life."

Ed Ashworth, Dean, College of Natural Sciences, Forestry, and Agriculture

Preserving Maine's Rural Nature

Those who make their living from Maine's farms, fisheries, forests, nurseries, greenhouses and other agribusinesses understand that the only thing that is predictable about the future is its uncertainty. The weather, invasive species, competition from abroad and regulation are just some of the factors that impact the livelihood of individuals, families and entire communities across the state of Maine.

Fortunately, Farm Credit East is available to help agribusinesses find their way. Farm Credit East provides loans and financial services that are informed by its employees' expert knowledge and extensive experience regarding Maine's natural resource-based economy. As a nearly century-old cooperative, Farm Credit East has a long history of hiring UMaine graduates, many of whom have personal experience with, as well as a passion for, Maine's natural resources. In 2013, Farm Credit of Maine (which merged with Farm Credit East on January 1, 2014) established a term professorship in production economics and agricultural finance, an area of great interest to the cooperative and its customers. Dr. Xuen Chen was appointed to this professorship to teach production economics, assist with agricultural and natural resource-based industry cost-of-production studies, and to lead the UMaine's Farm Credit Fellowship Program.

PRESIDENT ABRAM W. HARRIS AWARDS

As part of its 80th anniversary celebration this fall, the University of Maine Foundation presented the President Abram W. Harris Award to one graduate from each of UMaine's colleges. The Harris Award was established in the University of Maine Foundation in 2003 by President Harris' grandson Abram "Pete" W. Harris III '50 and his friend Marion Waterman Meyer '51. This year's Harris Awardees were scholarship recipients as UMaine students. They were honored for exemplary leadership, contributions to community and service to UMaine that reflect the essence of Dr. Harris' efforts as the president of the University of Maine, 1893 to 1901. To honor their legacies as successful scholarship recipients, the University of Maine Foundation presented the University of Maine with $1,000 scholarships in the name of each of the Harris Award recipients. The scholarships will be awarded in the next academic year. Photos courtesy of the University of Maine Foundation

"There are many opportunities for our donors to make a difference. Every gift matters and will help Maine youth find their way to a brighter future." Susan Jennings '82, Executive Director of the Maine 4-H Foundation

Maine 4-H Foundation: Balancing Tradition and New Opportunities

For 100 years, the University of Maine Cooperative Extension has been putting university research to work in every corner of Maine. One of the most visible elements of UMaine Extension is 4-H, which balances a traditional focus in areas such as agriculture with a more recent emphasis on science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) education. Two recent gifts reflect how donors are helping to sustain this balance of traditional and new interests.

A gift from Carla Lafayette, president of the Maine 4-H Foundation Board, and her husband, Danny, established the first STEM endowment for Maine 4-H. "What distinguishes our approach is that we reach out to students early on, making them feel they are part of UMaine's STEM family, and helping them understand how they make a difference within their communities," says Lisa Phelps, 4-H program administrator.

"Over 25,000 Maine youth are involved in our 4-H programs, which reinforce values related to leadership, healthy living, personal responsibility and self-reliance," says Susan Jennings, executive director of the Maine 4-H Foundation. "There are many opportunities for our donors to make a difference. Every gift matters, and will help Maine youth find their way to a brighter future."

Kim and Linc Merrill have initiated the first Maine 4-H Sheep endowment to further statewide agricultural education.

Whether their interests relate to the newest technologies or Maine's storied agricultural traditions, over 25,000 Maine youths are involved in 4-H programs. 4-H Youth Development works to change lives, inspire success and encourage achievement.

"This laboratory demonstrates the commitment of Texas Instruments to educating the next generation of electrical engineers and to the state of Maine." Dana Humphrey, Dean of the College of Engineering

Investing in UMaine

The University of Maine's College of Engineering has benefitted from a number of corporate gifts in recent years, several of which have helped the college upgrade its laboratories. The college faces unprecedented enrollment growth, and private support is more important than ever to ensure that undergraduate and graduate students have access to cutting-edge equipment and physical space that can be configured for team-based learning.

Texas Instruments (TI) is among the most recent corporate donors, making a gift to name a state-of-the-art lab that will be used for hands-on analog circuits engineering classes in the Electrical and Computer Engineering Department. A number of alumni made personal gifts to the lab; their giving was maximized through the TI 1:1 employee match program.

Science lab circa early 1980s

Lance Doiron '15 and Steve Lyle, Director of University and Engineering Workforce Development, Texas Instruments.

"In this lab, students will put circuit design — the heart of an electrical engineer's education — into practice," said Dana Humphrey, dean of the College of Engineering. "We are incredibly grateful for this partnership with Texas Instruments."

"Our (Class of 2015) endowed scholarship will help UMaine students, specifically juniors and seniors with severe financial need. We hope our gift will make a difference to many students in the years to come."

Kristina Jamo '15

Helping Students Find Their Way at UMaine

Class scholarships are an important tradition at the University of Maine and have benefitted thousands of students over the years. The Class of 2015 recently set up a scholarship endowment with the University of Maine Foundation, which manages more than 90 scholarships created by classes. The endowment is set up with a first preference for benefitting juniors or seniors with financial need who are active in on-campus organizations and who volunteer in the community.

"In recent years, each class has chosen to support a different project across campus. As we educate our students on the importance of philanthropy, we are now encouraging incoming classes to focus their support on institutional priorities, such as scholarships. Scholarships remain an urgent need among our students, and class scholarships also make sense as a continued focus for reunion giving after students graduate," says Christina Caron, director of annual giving.

Gianna Marrs, director of student financial aid, notes that privately funded scholarships are especially important to a public university in a rural state. "Over 91 percent of our first-year students applied for financial aid last year and 80 percent had financial need. Parental illness and death, unexpected unemployment and complex family dynamics can jeopardize our students' ability to remain enrolled at UMaine. Class scholarships are invaluable, often providing more flexible support than federal programs. We can use them immediately to help students who are often in dire need. Strong alumni support for our current and future students does make a real difference."

Kristina Jamo of East Millinocket chose UMaine after receiving a generous merit scholarship. She will graduate in May 2015 with a degree in kinesiology and plans to enroll in a doctor of physical therapy program. While holding down two part-time jobs, Jamo has served as co-president of Partners for World Health. UMaine is the only college or university in the nation to have a campus chapter of this organization.

"We felt it was important to give back, positively impacting today's UMaine students and setting an example for our own children."

Shawn Albert '99

Gifts with Lasting Impact

Shawn and Martha Gray Albert graduated from the University of Maine in 1999 with degrees in chemical engineering. Both received a scholarship from the University of Maine Pulp & Paper Foundation, helping them graduate debt-free. Along with a number of classmates, the Alberts recently established a scholarship at the UMaine Pulp & Paper Foundation. Shawn Albert, who began giving to UMaine as a student and who is now an account manager for Buckman North America, said, "Thanks to the generosity of previous Foundation donors, we have been able to raise a young family without having to worry about school debts on top of the mortgage, car payments, etc. We felt it was important to give back, positively impacting today's UMaine students and setting an example for our own children. Thanks to the great industry I work in, we were able to contribute and hopefully make a difference."

Albert family

The University of Maine Pulp & Paper Foundation was incorporated in 1952 by 12 UMaine alumni to financially support and prepare undergraduate students for careers in the pulp and paper and allied industries. The foundation is supported by annual gifts from more than 60 companies in 20 states, as well as individual gifts from more than 250 alumni and friends.

The Pulp & Paper Foundation currently supports up to 90 engineering and forestry students with merit-based scholarships. Many of these students represent multiple generations of Maine families.

The John Larcom Ober award is presented for the first time in 1955 to R. Bruce Arnold '56 by Dean Ashley S. Campbell (left) and Professor Harry D. Watson.

"I have a lot of love for this school. Every time I competed, I wanted to represent our state and our university to the best of my ability."

Kelton Cullenberg '14, America East Man of the Year

Kelton Cullenberg

A Resource for Student Athletes

Kelton Cullenberg '14 is among the thousands of UMaine students who laud the benefits of a $5 million gift made by New Balance Athletic Shoe, Inc. to name the university's student recreation center and field house. The impact of this gift was recognized in a more formal fashion in June 2014 when New Balance received a prestigious Stillwater Presidential Award.

Cullenberg himself is no stranger to awards. He was named the inaugural America East Man of the Year in 2014. Prior to receiving this honor, he had captained three UMaine teams and was selected to all-conference teams in cross country and indoor and outdoor track and field.

"I am very proud to have attended the University of Maine," says Cullenberg. "I have a lot of love for this school. Every time I competed, I wanted to represent our state and our university to the best of my ability. I see this award as a token of all the sacrifices that have been made over the last four years, including those from my coaches, professors, friends and family who have all helped me greatly the entire way."

Gary Cran '62 received the University of Maine Alumni Association's 2013 Pine Tree Emblem Service Award at the annual President's Club Brunch, held as part of Homecoming Weekend. All who give at least $1,000 a year to UMaine are eligible for membership in the President's Club. In addition to the annual brunch, members receive a pin, news of the university and invitations to other special events.

Peter Madigan '81 addressed an audience of more than 200 generous alumni and friends when he presented Dan Churchill '63 and his wife, Betty, with a 2014 Stillwater Presidential Award. Madigan is a member of the University of Maine's Board of Visitors and the School of Policy and International Affairs (SPIA). He established the Peter Madigan Congressional Internship based on his own experience as an undergraduate student working in Washington, D.C., with Maine's Congressional delegation.

WAYS OF GIVING

Charitable giving often carries significant tax benefits for donors. All gifts to UMaine and its fundraising partners are tax deductible to the extent allowed by law.
If you have questions regarding the tax implications of your giving, please consult your attorney or financial adviser. The type of gift that is best for you depends upon many factors, including your age, health, family and employment situation, assets and lifestyle choices. Many companies will match your gift to UMaine, maximizing the impact of your personal philanthropy.

Cash

Most gifts that benefit the university come in the form of cash. Many donors choose to make their cash gift with a credit card, check or wire transfer. We invite donors to consider our secure and convenient online giving site (umaine.edu/givenow).

Payroll Deduction

UMaine employees may make a gift through payroll deduction. Simply contact the Office of University Development for a payroll deduction form.

Bequests

The most common future gift is a bequest, where the donor includes UMaine in a will or an estate plan.

Appreciated Securities

A gift of long-term appreciated securities often has at least two advantages: It can provide an income tax deduction equal to the fair market value of the securities and may reduce capital gains. It is possible to make a gift using shares of mutual funds, but such gifts typically require more advanced planning as the transfers take longer.

Real Estate and Tangible Personal Property

Make a gift that benefits UMaine and often carries tax advantages. The allowable deduction for a gift of real estate or tangible personal property (such as works of art or boats) depends upon a number of factors. Contact the University of Maine Foundation for more information.

Life Insurance

You may make a gift of life insurance to the university or one of its fundraising partners by naming it as owner and irrevocable beneficiary of a policy. The gift may be a paid policy, an existing policy with cash value or a new policy.

Trusts

There are a variety of ways to create trusts that benefit you, your loved ones and UMaine. Choosing the "right" trust or other planned giving vehicle depends on your age, assets and many other factors.

Charitable Gift Annuity

Through a simple contract, you agree to donate cash, stocks or other assets to the University of Maine Foundation. In return, you and someone else, if you choose, receive a fixed amount each year for the rest of your lives.

INCREASING THE IMPACT OF YOUR GIFT TO UMAINE

Honoring Others

You can make a gift supporting any area of the University of Maine in memory or honor of a professor, coach, student, relative or friend. Gifts are a special way to celebrate a birthday or anniversary, or the graduation of a child, grandchild or other loved one. Memorial gifts are a thoughtful way to recognize a person's influence and accomplishments while advancing the mission of the University of Maine and helping the students we serve. When you make an honorary or memorial gift, we will (if requested) notify the honoree or next of kin, and will administer the gift as you direct.

Corporate Partnerships

Companies, large and small, are choosing to partner with UMaine in ways that are mutually beneficial. Corporate partnerships can involve internships and assistance with recruitment. The naming of laboratories and other facilities brings visibility for the company, and also is an important source of funding for equipment, scholarships, student travel and other needs.

Perpetual Giving (Monthly)

Many donors choose to make an automatic monthly gift to UMaine using their credit card or another type of electronic fund transfer. This is convenient for donors and can help reduce printing and mailing costs.

Fogler Library

"Sally and I have literally danced our way around the world, but our hearts always carry us back to Orono, where we met as students at the University of Maine. It has been our privilege to give back to our alma mater as volunteers and donors." Allen Fernald '54

Still Dancing the Night Away

Renovations to a former dining hall, Stewart Commons, have recently yielded a new learning environment for UMaine students. The Wyeth Family Center for Studio Art and the Innovative Media Research and Commercialization Center (IMRC) share the new space, which is in close proximity to the university's Foster Innovation Center. Sally '55 and Allen '54 Fernald were among the donors who braved freezing temperatures to attend the IMRC dedication in January. Devoted volunteers, the Fernalds have given more than $1 million to the University of Maine, making them members of the newly established Katahdin Society.

"It has been our privilege to give back to our alma mater as volunteers and donors," says Allen Fernald. "We want to make sure that our university remains strong for future generations, so that others will be afforded the same blessings of friendship, family, civic engagement and career success that we attribute to our UMaine experience so many years ago."

Alumni Reunion Dance

Sally '55 and Allen '54 Fernald met at a dance during Sally's first week at UMaine and remain among UMaine's most committed donors and volunteers.

GIVING SOCIETIES

Every gift honors UMaine's past while helping to shape its future and the well-being of thousands of Maine citizens. While each and every gift is vital to UMaine's mission, the donor list in this report includes those individuals and organizations that have made gifts of at least $1,000 in fiscal year 2014 (July 1, 2013–June 30, 2014). All of these donors are members of the President's Club. Some are also members of other gift societies, based on their lifelong giving and planned gifts to UMaine.

Katahdin Society

The Katahdin Society honors alumni and friends who have given $1 million or more to benefit the University of Maine. Such exceptional generosity has helped ensure UMaine's success for the first 150 years, and will be even more important in the years to come, as costs continue to rise and the need for exceptional teaching, research and outreach escalates in an increasingly complex world.

K will appear after donor name.

Stillwater Society

The Stillwater Society was created in 2000 to celebrate donors who have given at least $25,000 to the University of Maine over the course of their lifetime. Donors are eligible for the society based on their cumulative outright gifts and irrevocable planned gifts. Some friends and alumni are members of the Stillwater Society as the result of a single gift; others are members as the result of faithful, long-time support. New members are inducted at a formal recognition dinner each year and presented with a pin symbolic of their respective Stillwater Society level.

S will appear after donor name.

Charles F. Allen Legacy Society

The Charles F. Allen Legacy Society, named for the University of Maine's first president, was established in 1995 to recognize and honor alumni and friends who intend to remember the University of Maine or its affiliated organizations by making a bequest or other form of planned or deferred gift. Such gifts will benefit the university in the years ahead without necessarily requiring that the donor fund the gift at the present time. While the gift is deferred, the benefits of membership in the society begin immediately. If you let us know that you have provided at least $10,000 for the University of Maine or its affiliated organizations in your will, trust, pooled life income fund, life insurance policy, gift annuity or retirement fund, you immediately become a full member of the Society. Charles F. Allen Legacy Society members receive a membership certificate recognizing their intentions and a lapel pin. Members are also honored at a special event on campus.

L will appear after donor name.

President's Club

The President's Club is UMaine's "front door" to special donor recognition. Members of the President's Club give at least $1,000 a year to UMaine. Gifts can be unrestricted or designated for a particular need or priority; they may be used for current operations or directed toward an endowment. President's Club members range from recent graduates to senior alumni, represent virtually every major, are scattered across the country and share a common commitment to improving the lives of others. President's Club members receive a pin and are invited to a special brunch over Homecoming Weekend.

P will appear after donor name.

Triple Crown of Support

This report includes the names of alumni and friends who are truly shaping the future of the University of Maine as members of the Stillwater Society, Charles F. Allen Legacy Society and President's Club.

The Triple Crown is a realistic goal for many donors who make philanthropy a priority, plan ahead and thoughtfully consider the many ways of giving. There is no "ideal" way to make a gift; the timing and nature of your gifts will depend on your unique circumstances.

We encourage you to work closely with your legal and financial advisers, as well as our fundraising professionals, to determine a path that is mutually beneficial for you, your loved ones and the University of Maine.

will appear after donor name.

Loyal M Society

The Loyal M Society is a new way of recognizing UMaine's most faithful philanthropists. Membership is open to donors who have made gifts to benefit UMaine over at least two consecutive fiscal years, regardless of the gift amount, type or purpose. Recurring monthly gifts, set up with a credit card or electronic fund transfer from a checking account, are a convenient way to secure ongoing membership in the Loyal M Society. Membership is noted with the years of consecutive support in parentheses, e.g. (15) denotes that a donor has made gifts to UMaine for 15 consecutive years, including FY14. Actual years of consecutive giving may be greater; the count extends back to when the Office of University Development transitioned from paper records to a fundraising database. Consecutive year giving to the University of Maine Pulp & Paper Foundation and the Maine 4-H Foundation may not be reflected in this donor list due to database conversion projects.

to support the mission of the University of Maine.

Ella Fitzgerald at UMaine in 1989

A generous gift from Richard R. '59 and Anne A. Collins '61 named the Collins Center for the Arts. The center, home of the Bangor Symphony Orchestra and Hudson Museum, has served thousands of patrons since 1986. Private support has always been essential to the operation of the performing arts center, which has benefited from many generous families, including the Hutchins, for whom the concert hall is named. Elizabeth Noyce and William P. Palmer III are among the center's other major benefactors.

Emera Astronomy Center beam signing in 2013

Generous gifts from an anonymous donor, Emera Inc. and other donors made possible the new Emera Astronomy Center, which now houses the Maynard F. Jordan Planetarium and Observatory. Children and families, as well as UMaine faculty and students, will benefit from this new resource that celebrates the starry nights of Maine.

Darling Marine Center's R/V Ira C. research vessel

Ira C. Darling, a Chicago businessman, and his wife donated their beloved saltwater farm to UMaine in 1965 to establish the Darling Marine Center and create the first oceanography program at the University of Maine. To help maintain and improve the property and support two chaired professorships, Mr. Darling established a significant trust. Today the center supports a broad spectrum of marine science programs in cooperation with the School of Marine Sciences.

The center provides opportunities for thousands of individuals to explore the Gulf of Maine — from K–12 students and the general public, to undergraduates, graduate students, postdoctoral fellows, faculty, science conference attendees, and visiting investigators from around the world.

UMaine forestry students in 1915

A 1937 forestry graduate left UMaine a $12 million bequest, the largest in the university's history, to establish the George L. Houston Scholarship Fund. Announced in 2007, the George L. Houston Scholarship Fund allows the School of Forest Resources to attract more of the best and brightest students from across the country. The fund, managed by the University of Maine Foundation, makes $500,000–$600,000 available in scholarships each year.

A young museum visitor contemplates Andy Warhol's Mick Jagger

The University of Maine Museum of Art was established in 1946 by Vincent Hartgen, a painter and founder of the Art Department. In 2002, the museum moved to downtown Bangor to carry out its mission of making art accessible to the people of Maine. Philanthropy has always been at the center of the museum; most of the works have been donated or purchased with private support. Private support is also important to preserving and exhibiting the collection. Robert Venn Carr, Jr. '38, for example, gifted over 300 pieces of art representing Roy Lichtenstein and Pablo Picasso, among others.

Dr. Adriaan R.P. Van Heiningen

Named chairs and professorships recognize outstanding faculty members and contribute to the overall prestige of a university. The J. Larcom Ober Research Chair in Chemical Engineering was established by a member of the Class of 1913 who served as a charter member of the University of Maine Pulp & Paper Foundation. Through a bequest, Ober established the university's first named chair or professorship, currently held by Dr. Adriaan R. P. Van Heiningen, a scholar with an international reputation in the selective and controlled extraction of hemicellulose from forest biomass as part of UMaine's Forest Bioproducts Research Institute (FBRI).

Buchanan Alumni House

Home to the University of Maine Alumni Association, the University of Maine Foundation, and the campus visitor's center, the $7.3 million Buchanan Alumni House is named in honor of Dr. Robert D. Buchanan, a retired dentist and Caribou native. Buchanan was a graduate of the Class of 1944 and made the naming gift of $1 million toward the new house. Today, Buchanan Alumni House benefits from a private endowment of more than $4 million, thanks to the support of generous friends and alumni.

Traditions like Maine Day forge a common bond among many generations of UMaine students. In 1935, President Arthur Hauck set aside Maine Day as an opportunity for students, faculty and staff to participate in a spring cleanup. Many traditions have emerged since then, including a parade, oozeball and a campuswide barbecue.
