

Developing Community, Preventing Chaos!

Community Development:

Students will be engaged in their communities and take ownership of the development of inclusivity, trust, respect, safety, and civility.

Students will respect ideas and beliefs of others.

Students will understand the interconnectedness of one's actions with the experiences of others.

Students will demonstrate personal responsibility.

Students will demonstrate a genuine interest and investment in the safety and well-being of others.

Active Learning:

Students will engage in an environment that encourages curiosity, reflection, integration, and the application of learning to their life experiences.

Students will develop confidence through the discovery of their strengths and talents.

Students will be proactive and solution-focused rather than reactive and avoidant.

Students will develop a perspective on themselves, the world, and their future that equips them for success in college and beyond.

Interpersonal Development:

Students will continuously develop themselves and build the skills needed to communicate and empathize with others.

Students will develop and trust their ability to think, care, and advocate for themselves.

Students will establish and maintain positive relationships with others.

Students will develop a willingness to learn, understand, and welcome differences within a global society.

Civic Engagement:

Students will contribute to social change and engage in communities with a global perspective.

Students will understand their roles and responsibilities within communities.

Students will be conscious of their impact on others and the environment.

Students will appreciate and participate in activities that benefit others.

Students will work to lessen their carbon footprint.