A screenshot of the 'Use YouTube as...' dialog box. It features a placeholder profile picture on the left. To its right are two text input fields: the first contains 'John' and the second contains 'Smith'. Below these fields is a paragraph of text: 'By clicking "Create channel", you agree to YouTube's Terms of Service. Learn more Changes you make here may show up across Google services with content you create and share, and to people you interact with. Learn more Use a business or other name'. At the bottom right, there are two buttons: a 'CANCEL' button and a 'CREATE CHANNEL' button, which is highlighted with a red rectangular border.

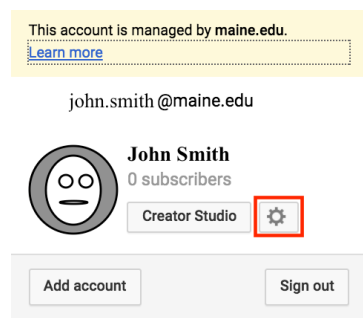

- Start uploading videos!
