

University of Maine & Davis Foundation Projects for Peace

Projects for Peace is a humanitarian initiative inspired by the late philanthropist Kathryn W. Davis. Since the program's founding in 2007, thousands of projects have been completed all over the world. The Projects for Peace initiative is designed to encourage creativity, innovation and social entrepreneurship.

The University of Maine is announcing a call for proposals that are building blocks for a sustainable peace. Any undergraduate or group of undergraduates is eligible to design a project for the summer of 2025 - ANYWHERE IN THE WORLD - which promotes peace, addresses the root causes of conflict among parties, and has a plan for sustainability. The winning UMaine project will be awarded up to $10,000 to implement the project.

See our website (umaine.edu/cohen) for examples of prior projects.

For information please contact:

Professor Richard Powell
The Cohen Institute
247 Boudreau Hall
rpowell@maine.edu

The University of Maine is an equal opportunity/affirmative action institution.

Recommended Due Date for Draft Proposals:

November 1, 2024

Final Draft Proposals Due:

December 3, 2024