

DEPOSIT AGREEMENT

Northeast Archives of Folklore and Oral History University of Maine

The Northeast Archives of Folklore and Oral History are located at the Raymond H. Fogler Library Special Collections Department, University of Maine. Northeast Archives was formally located within the Maine Folklife Center and will continue to serve as its archival repository within the Special Collections Department. The mission of the Maine Folklife Center and the purpose of our oral history and folklore projects is to collect, preserve, and disseminate information about the history, culture, folklore, and folklife of Maine and Atlantic Canada. In recognition and support of this work the undersigned interviewee and interviewer agree to donate the audio and/or video recordings and/or photographs taken and transcripts resulting from their interviews to the Northeast Archives of Folklore and Oral History. They do so with the understanding that such interview materials, whether conducted for or donated to the Archives or Center, become part of the Archives, and that they will be made available for use consistent with the University's mission. If the interviewee and/or interviewer wishes to place restrictions on the use of these materials they should use the Deposit Agreement with Restrictions Form.

We, the undersigned, have read the above. The interviewer affirms that he/she has explained the nature and purpose of this oral history research. The interviewee affirms that he/she has consented to the interview. The interviewee and interviewer hereby give, grant, and assign all rights, title, and interest, including copyright, of whatever kind for this information and interview to Northeast Archives of Folklore and Oral History and the University of Maine.
