☐ No. The department will not request additional resources for this course.

What other departments/programs are affected (e.g. course overlap, prerequisites)? Have affected departments/programs been consulted? Any concerns expressed? Please explain.

How often will this course be offered? Will offering this course result in overload salary payments, either through the college or CED, either to the instructor of this course or to anyone else as a result of rearranging teaching assignments?
SECTION 2 (FOR COURSE MODIFICATIONS)

Current catalog description (include designator, number, title, prerequisites, credit hours):

BIO555 Biological Invasions: Prerequisites - graduate standing and permission of the instructor. 4 cr.
Analysis of mechanisms behind species establishment in new areas, their impact on native ecology, theoretical bases of invasion-related phenomena, and economic and sociopolitical costs inflicted by exotic species. Note: BIO 455 and BIO 555 cannot both be taken for degree credit.

Proposed catalog description (include designator, number, title, prerequisites, credit hours):

BIO555 Biological Invasions: Prerequisites - graduate standing and permission of the instructor. 3 cr.
Analysis of mechanisms behind species establishment in new areas, their impact on native ecology, theoretical bases of invasion-related phenomena, and economic and sociopolitical costs inflicted by exotic species. Note: BIO 455 and BIO 555 cannot both be taken for degree credit.

Reason for course modification:

We are dropping the laboratory and reducing the course from 4 to 3 credits. The laboratory is not essential and is difficult for students to accommodate in their schedules. The course was originally taught without a laboratory. Addition of the laboratory resulted in a significant drop in enrollment of this otherwise popular course.

Reason for Elimination
