

7th Annual Virtual Archaeology Day

Friday, March 26th, 2021

The Hudson Museum in collaboration with the Anthropology Department will host our first ever Virtual Archaeology Day on Friday, March 26th. Students will learn from Anthropology faculty and graduate students as well as the Director of the Hudson Museum. Presentations will include archaeological research and laboratory tours and museum collection areas and exhibits. Presentations will be available via a private YouTube link and students will have the opportunity to submit questions for our Ask an Archaeologist event.
