

University of Maine Study Abroad Advisement Guide

NURSING

General Information

Nursing majors can study abroad during their third semester to complete general education requirements before they start taking nursing courses. Students considering studying abroad must consult with Professor Cathy Berardelli, academic advisor for first year nursing students. Students may choose to study abroad in virtually any country they choose, but India, Costa Rica, and Bulgaria are recommended for the service-learning and volunteer opportunities available in these locations.

Top Reasons to Study Abroad

You will:

- change your life
- grow as an individual
- explore
- learn about yourself
- learn different perspectives
- make new friends
- find out what is beyond your borders
- be amazed by places and people of different values, beliefs, and celebrations

This academic experience will enable you to:

- earn university credit
- fulfill major and minor requirements
- supplement your major by selecting courses not offered here

What Students Say

"I like to think of Bulgaria as my homeland now, even though my mom always reminds me that it's not. I had the most incredible experience in one of the most underestimated countries. Bulgaria is beautiful, diverse, inexpensive, and the food is delicious."
