UMaine Institute of Medicine Seminar Series
Sept. 17–Oct. 29, Friday from 12-1 p.m. (via Zoom unless otherwise noted)

This seminar series is for students, faculty, staff, healthcare providers and other members of the public interested in learning about research in medicine. Each presentation will be followed by Q&A opportunities. Moderator: David Harder, Ph.D., University Research Professor of Medicine, Director UMaine Institute of Medicine

September 17
A new dawn for chronic kidney disease – SGLT-2 inhibition as a novel strategy
Hermann Haller, M.D., President, MDI Biological Laboratory

October 8
Veterinary Forensic Pathology and One Health
Nanny Wenzlow, DVM, PhD, MRCVS

October 15
Identifying tissue-specific nutrient-sensing effects on growth, health, and longevity in C. elegans
Aric Rogers, Ph.D., Associate Professor, MDIBL

October 22
Community Engagement to Enhance Research in Maine
Elizabeth A. Jacobs, MD MPP, Vice President for Research, MaineHealth

October 29
Limb vs Tail – Two modes of tissue regeneration in axolotl
Prayag Murawala, Ph.D., Assistant Professor, MDIBL

Join us for this free seminar series • Registration at umaine.edu/medicine/seminars-2/