

Joseph Harris

“Eddic Poetry as World Literature”

Thursday October 20, 4:10 p.m.

Soderberg Auditorium

Joseph Harris, Francis Lee Higginson Research Professor of English and Research Professor of Folklore at Harvard University, will speak on the poetic and legendary traditions of Medieval Scandinavia, their influence on modern culture, and their unique value to the world.

This Lecture is part of the 2016-2017 UMHC Symposium:

Saga and Story: An Interdisciplinary Exploration from the Vikings to Our Time.

Department of English

Humanities Center

The University of Maine is an equal opportunity/affirmative action institution

