Executive Summary of University of Maine at Machias Rebranding Campaign

The need to address University of Maine at Machias branding has grown in urgency. The co-branding approach instituted at the start of the primary partnership in 2016 caused confusion for students and other constituents, particularly affecting enrollment management and financial aid areas. As a result, the past year and a half was spent collaboratively developing a proposal for rebranding UMaine Machias to address the concerns for clear marketing and communication. That effort was led by the communication leads at UMaine Machias and UMaine, with a proposal shared with President Joan Ferrini-Mundy and Head of Campus Dan Qualls beginning in fall 2020. Rebranding concepts were finalized in March 2021.

That same month, President Ferrini-Mundy established the University of Maine/University of Maine at Machias Regional Campus Task Force and charged it with reviewing progress in the strategic areas and creating realistic, accelerated timelines and implementation steps for completion of the transition as a regional campus. Major elements are expected to be fully planned or in place by fall 2021, and all elements completed by the end of July 2022.

While the task force has collective responsibility for progress toward these deadlines, working groups are primarily topically focused. Working Group 5 focused on stakeholder relations, including rebranding, marketing and communications. Task force members expressed eagerness to have the new branding publicly announced and implemented, even as a revised mission statement is under development.

The May 27, 2021 meeting of the Task Force was dedicated to review of the proposed brand standards for the University of Maine at Machias. At the end of the hour-long discussion, the members present voted (15 in favor, 1 abstaining) to recommend to President Ferrini-Mundy that the brand standards as drafted be adopted to better reflect the connection between the two universities — the University of Maine and its regional campus at the University of Maine at Machias — and the goals of UMS unified accreditation.

In July, the proposed UMaine Machias brand standards were shared as part of two separate meetings with members of the UMaine Machias Board of Visitors (BOV), members of the Washington County legislative delegation and members of the Board of Trustees Executive Committee. In addition, the PowerPoint presentation created to update the BOV on the work of the Task Force, including the branding proposal, was shared with UMaine Machias employees in a July 30 email from Task Force chair Emily Haddad and head of campus Dan Qualls.

A phased rollout of the rebrand is recommended in the coming academic year to meet immediate marketing and communication needs wherever possible, and to demonstrate efficient and effective resource stewardship. Ultimately, the rebrand will reflect the quality, value and stature of UMaine Machias as a regional UMaine campus. Elements of an institution-wide rebranding effort range from student recruitment marketing, campus signage and website to branded clothing, letterhead and editorial style. A communication plan includes messaging on and off campus, starting this fall, even if physical evidence of the rebrand is not readily seen on campus until spring.

What follows is a draft strategy for communicating the need, goal and implementation of the rebrand, and a dynamic list of areas to be addressed in the campaign and approximate time frames. Also included: a list of top talking points.

Top talking points

- Since the introduction of the primary partnership by the UMS Board of Trustees in 2016, the UMaine and UMaine Machias communication leads have collaborated to coordinate appropriate messaging to internal and external constituents. When efforts to co-brand, particularly in student recruitment efforts, resulted in confusion/mixed results, the communication leads began a concerted effort over the past year and a half to design brand standards that more accurately represent the increasing integration of the two universities and better serve constituents, particularly students.
- A working proposal of UMaine Machias brand standards had evolved by late spring 2021 at about the same time that the University of Maine/University of Maine at Machias Regional Campus Task Force was appointed. Brand development and implementation quickly was identified as an urgent priority for the Task Force, which fast-tracked its recommendation and introduction to key external stakeholders.
- Urgency for a rebrand included the need to refine the UMaine/UMaine Machias relationship in student recruitment marketing, and the 2020 decision related to the single UMaine OPEID/FAFSA ID for both universities.
- The rebrand of UMaine Machias needs to reflect the distinction and contributions of UMaine Machias, establishing a regional campus of UMaine, serving students with affordable, high-quality educational opportunities in Down East Maine and Washington County, and reflecting the potential benefits to both universities.
- It is important to recognize the relevance of the UMaine Machias brand — past, present and future — to students, employees, alumni and the community. Inherently, rebranding campaigns can elicit both a sense of loss for the past and anticipation. As part of a rebranding campaign, the legacy brand must be honored and the next generation identity must provide advancement and positioning for the future.
- For student recruitment and institutional marketing purposes, the rebrand is fundamental to enhanced promotional opportunities.
