Early Learnings from the Pandemic

Over a year into the COVID-19 pandemic, the State of Maine continues to work at containment of the virus, vaccination, and recovery. Jeanne Lambrew, Ph.D, the Maine Commissioner of Health and Human Services, will reflect on lessons learned to date as well as engage with retirees on their thoughts and suggestions.

The presentation will be approximately 15 minutes followed by a limited number of questions. Type your questions on the small screen found by clicking the Q/A button at the bottom and right of center.

The questions will go to the moderator, Tom Sandford, who will facilitate your typed questions for answers by Jeanne Lambrew following the presentation.
