- Keynote Address by University of Maine System Chancellor James H. Page. He will speak on One University.

- Presentation of 2017 Barbara Hikel award to Phil Locke. Phil Locke retired from the University of Maine in 2002 at the rank of associate professor of Mathematics. Since retirement, Phil has dedicated himself on behalf of the Orono Bog Boardwalk as the volunteer maintenance supervisor. He has also become a “legend” among Literacy Volunteers for his many hours of service including his role as English language tutor serving international students at UMaine.

- Several booths representing campus organizations and other vendors of special interest to retirees including Athletics, Bodwell Volunteer Center, Orono Bog Boardwalk, Cooperative Extension, Eastern Agency on Aging, Fogler Library, Hudson Museum, Innovation and Economic Development, Maine Folklife Center, Page Farm and Home Museum, Friends of Edith Patch, Planetarium, Recreation Center, Senior College, UMaine Foundation, UMS Benefits.

- Buffet Lunch and Ice Cream Sundae bar, Door Prize Drawings

Tours following the Homecoming event.

“Maine Beyond the Usual.” Join John and Marisue Pickering for an online, armchair tour of UMaine’s “Self-Guided Walking Tours” from the comfort of Wells Conference Center. Sample the four tours currently in place: Garden, Outdoor Sculpture, Circle the Mall, and Historic District. Following the online tour, weather permitting, John and Marisue will offer a brief (20 minutes) walking tour of sights within 100 yards of Wells. The walking tour is limited to 20 people; no limit for the online presentation.

Tour of LifeFlight Operation at Bangor International Airport.

LifeFlight of Maine is known for providing critical care transport to all who need its resources. In just minutes LifeFlight pilots and medical staff can be up in the air flying patients to get the help that they need. Along with their new fixed wing aircraft LifeFlight has moved into a larger hangar at Bangor International Airport. You are invited to visit the hangar and learn more about this lifesaving service.
