Eileen Molloy, Certified Diabetes Educator from the UM Department of Food Science and Human Nutrition, will discuss diabetes and pre-diabetes and why we should care, risk factors, and a brief overview of treatment.

Eileen will identify helpful resources including UM Cooperative Extension’s online series Dining with Diabetes.

The presentation will be approximately 20 minutes followed by 10 minutes for questions and answers. Type your questions on the small screen found by clicking the Q/A button at the bottom and right of center. The questions will go to the moderator, Louis Bassano, who will facilitate your typed questions for answers by Eileen Molloy during the Question and Answer period.
