According to the Department of Education, “institutions must expend their HEERF grant funds within one year from the date when the Department processed the most recent obligation of funds for each specific grant”. Eligibility Requirements

Consistent with the guidance from the U.S. DOE, eligible students include:

- Any student who is or was enrolled at the University of Maine and University of Maine at Machias on or after the date of the national emergency was declared for COVID-19. Title IV regulations define enrolled as a student who has completed the registration requirements. For the University of Maine and the University of Maine at Machias, Current Enrollment will be defined as official registration in courses (as reflected in MaineStreet) for any available semesters of enrollment at the given time. Detailed in each methodology is the date that eligibility (including a student’s Current Enrollment status) will be evaluated.
- International students, undocumented students, students exclusively enrolled in distance education, and graduate students are eligible to be considered for HEERF III funds.
- Students receiving the employee tuition waiver and early college students are not eligible for HEERF III funds.

Distribution Plan

Under the guidance of the definition of exceptional need by the Department of Education, the University of Maine and the University of Maine at Machias define exceptional need as students who are eligible for Federal Pell Grant, based on the 2021-2022 FAFSA. The following distribution methodologies also include an additional level of need using a Unmet need calculation.

The first round of automatic payments will specifically target students with exceptional need and unmet need. Students selected for automatic payments include:

- Undergraduate and Graduate Students
- Current Enrollment
- Filed a 2021-2022 FAFSA (Filing date - before or after March 1, 2021)
- Unmet Need

Based on Pell eligibility, unmet need calculated, EFC, FAFSA filing date, and campus of enrollment, the award amounts range from $250 to $2,000.

UMaine and UMM will then provide an application round to a specific pool of eligible students (Based on FAFSA status, EFC, unmet need, and current enrollment).

Every eligible student chose the method of disbursement: either electronically consenting to have the funds applied directly to their student bill or to receive a direct payment of these funds.
