Rating Scale

Rating Scale:	The standard by which a student is to be evaluated is that of a new entry-level social worker. The 9 competencies that are specified in this evaluation form are those established by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE). Please rate each student on their ability to demonstrate the overall competency. Under each competency statement are several items that we ask you to rate according to the following criteria. This evaluation should assess the student's competencies for the current semester. Comments may be made under any competency statement, if desired. Specific examples related to each competency statement are also welcome. Please be sure to indicate those areas in which you think the student is particularly strong and those areas that need improvement. Please provide additional details for any competency behavior in which there is a rating of 1 or 2. This evaluation is intended to give the student feedback about their performance and to provide the Faculty Liaison (Seminar Instructor) with an overall assessment of our students' competencies in the field.
Rating	Rating Description
5	Mastered - The student has mastered the competency in this area. The student is able to demonstrate advanced application of all of the dimensions of knowledge, values, skills, cognitive and affective processes for the competency behaviors.
4	Advanced - The student demonstrates advanced competency in this area. The student is able to demonstrate advanced application of most of the dimensions of knowledge, values, skills, cognitive and affective processes for the competency behaviors.
3	Satisfactory - The student demonstrates satisfactory competency in this area. The student s abe to demonstrate adequate application of all the dimensions of knowledge, values, skills, cognitive and affective processes for the competency behaviors.
2	Approaching - The student is approaching competency in this area and it is anticipated that the student will meet the expectations in the near future. The student is able to demonstrate some of the dimensions of knowledge, skills, values, cognitive and affective processes for the competency behaviors.
1	Has not met expectations - The student has not met the expectations for demonstrating the competency at this time. The student is not able to demonstrate any of the dimensions of knowledge, values, skills, cognitive and affective processes for the competency behaviors.

Social workers understand how racism and oppression shape human experiences and how these two constructs influence practice at the individual, family, group, organizational, and community levels and in policy and research. Social workers understand the pervasive impact of White supremacy and privilege and use their knowledge, awareness, and skills to engage in anti-racist practice. Social workers understand how diversity and intersectionality shape human experiences and identity development and affect equity and inclusion. The dimensions of diversity are understood as the intersectionality of factors including but not limited to age, caste, class, color, culture, disability and ability, ethnicity, gender, gender identity and expression, generational status, immigration status, legal status, marital status, political ideology, race, nationality, religion and spirituality, sex, sexual orientation, and tribal sovereign status. Social workers understand that this intersectionality means that a person's life experiences may include oppression, poverty, marginalization, and alienation as well as privilege and power. Social workers understand the societal and historical roots of social and racial injustices and the forms and mechanisms of oppression and discrimination. Social workers understand cultural humility and recognize the extent to which a culture's structures and values, including social, economic, political, racial, technological, and cultural exclusions, may create privilege and power resulting in systemic oppression.

Competency #4: Engage In Practice-Informed Research and Research-informed Practice

Social workers use ethical, culturally informed, anti-racist, and anti-oppressive approaches in conducting research and building knowledge. Social workers use research to inform their practice decision making and articulate how their practice experience informs research and evaluation decisions. Social workers critically evaluate and critique current, empirically sound research to inform decisions pertaining to practice, policy, and programs. Social workers understand the inherent bias in research and evaluate design, analysis, and interpretation using an anti-racist and anti-oppressive perspective. Social workers know how to access, critique, and synthesize the current literature to develop appropriate research questions and hypotheses. Social workers demonstrate knowledge and skills regarding qualitative and quantitative research methods and analysis, and they interpret data derived from these methods. Social workers demonstrate knowledge about methods to assess reliability and validity in social work research. Social workers can articulate and share research findings in ways that are usable to a variety of clients and constituencies. Social workers understand the value of evidence derived from interprofessional and diverse research methods, approaches, and sources.
