THE UNIVERSITY OF MAINE
Sociology Department
Understanding Ourselves, Improving Society

Fernald Hall 201

Summer '23 Sociology Course Offerings

SOC 201 Social Inequality Cr 3

Structural analysis of social inequality within American society and the global community. Emphasis on the causes, extent and social consequences of inequality, especially those based on race, gender, social class and the level of economic development.

SOC 201	Asynchronous	05/08-06/16	Glenn Eichel	Online

CRJ 114 Survey of Criminal Justice Cr 3

This course examines the causes, extent, and nature of crime in American society. Emphasis given to the measurement of crime, the social patterning of criminal behavior, theories of criminal behavior, and the dynamics of types of crime.

CRJ 114	Online	05/08-05/26	Brian Pitman	Online

SOC 220 Sociology of Deviance Cr 3

The study of deviant behaviors, individuals, and groups, with emphasis on social order, power and identity. Use of the sociological perspective to explore definitions of deviance, processes by which individuals become labeled as deviant, the nature of deviant identities and societal consequences of constructions of deviance.

SOC 240	Online	06/26-08/04	Glenn Eichel	Online

SOC 340 Gender and History of Psychiatry Cr 3

An intermediate-level study of topics such as "Sociology of Emotions," "Sociology of Science and Technology," and "Modern Sociological Theory." May be repeated for credit if the topics differ

SOC 340:990	Online	06/26-08/04	Mary Okin	Online