UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

IN MEMORIAM
DEDICATION

In this book are the records of those sons of Maine who gave their lives all theatres of war. The stories of their lives are brief, for all of them were young. And yet, behind the dates and the names of places there shines the record of courage and sacrifice, of love, and of a devotion to duty that transcends all thought of safety or of gain or of selfish ambition. These are the names of those we love; these are the stories of those who once walked with us and sang our songs and shared our common hope. These are the faces of our loved ones and good comrades, of sons and husbands. There is no tribute equal to their sacrifice; there is no word of praise worthy of their deeds. In gratitude and love these pages are assembled, that here, in one place, their names may be forever enshrined by the University of Maine.

They shall not grow old, as we that are left grow old:
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.

—Laurence Binyon

Arthur James Elliot - Class of Unknown

Vietnam
Navy

Arthur J. Elliot, son of Albert B. and Helen M. Elliot was born in Rockland, Maine on April 9th, 1933.

Elliot graduated from Thomaston High School in 1950 where he played both basketball and baseball.

Commander Elliot was killed when he was returning with his squadron of 20 boats from a mission on the Vam Co Dong River, one of the many streams in the Mekong Delta. The trip up the river, which was densely forested on both sides, was uneventful but they had been spotted by the Viet Cong and on their return the patrol ran into an ambush. When the squadron entered one of the many small lakes through which the river flowed, they came under a fierce attack. It was the perfect place for an ambush, since the thick jungle foliage made it difficult to spot the enemy, and the downstream exit point was not visible from the lake. As Viet Cong shells rained down on his command, Elliot’s patrol boat circled the lake desperately seeking the exit point. When he found it he stationed his boat in a position to direct the rest of his flotilla out of the area. His boat was the last to leave when he was mortally wounded by a rocket. Fortunately his crew and the other boats made it back to their base safely. Ironically Elliot’s tour of duty had officially ended, but his replacement had requested a postponement.
