WGS 101 (991) Introduction to Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies

An introduction to WGS Studies, to its perspectives, and to its interdisciplinary nature. Using several disciplines, the class will examine women’s and men’s positions in Western culture and will explore the genesis, the development, and the impact of our culture’s assumptions about gender. Satisfies the General Education requirements Eth., Soc. Cont. & Inst., and Cult. Div. & Intl. (Rebecca White, UM Belfast, 05/15-6/23, #42191) (Jennie Woodard, Online, 05/18-6/23, #42192) (Mary Okin, Online, 06/26-08/04, #42195) Cr. 3.

WGS 201 (990) Topics in Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies: Wonder Woman

In this course, we will delve into the politics and secret history of one of the most popular feminist icons and symbols of female power: Wonder Woman. A central theme of the course is the social construction of feminine power; the role of pop culture and the media in shaping this and how iconic representations of power translate off the page into the “real world.” We will also explore the stories of real-life Wonder Women, the “she-heroes” who are fighting for truth, justice and gender equality...without the help of magic lassos, arm bands and invisible jets. The class coincides with the June release of the new “Wonder Woman” movie! (Nicole Littrell, Online, 06/15-06/23, #43016) Cr. 3.

WGS 301/501 (990) Intermediate Topics: Gender & the History of Psychiatry

This course examines the history of women’s interactions with the psychiatric profession in Western society and the gender biases in the diagnosis and treatment of mental disorders. We will examine the biological explanations used to explain mental disorder in women, the former psychiatric diagnoses commonly given to women (such as hysteria and nymphomania), and the therapies used to “cure” women, including gynecological surgery. We will also explore how these diagnostic categories have shifted over time while the underlying themes have remained. WGS 101 or instructor’s permission. Graduate version WGS 501 (990). (Mary Okin, Online, 06/18-06/23, #42450. 501 #42502)

WGS 360 (990) Intermediate Topics: Feminism and Cinema

This course provides an introductory look into the detailed study of cinema and its influence on and reaction to contemporary social issues, including the construction of masculine and feminine identities, motherhood and the family, sexuality, socioeconomics, race, and standards of beauty. Students will learn not only how the social messages of the film’s content provides insight into the role of women in society, but also how visual cues such as lighting, costuming, and sound contribute to social commentary. (Jennie Woodard, Online, 06/26-08/04, #42684) Cr. 3.

WGS 401 (990) Advanced Topics: Reverence for Life—Peace, Reconciliation, & Community

This course draws on the work of Albert Schweizer, contemporary perspectives on the Ethic of Care, and emerging work in nonviolent conflict resolution. This interdisciplinary course looks at the components of community building and sustainable practices centered around equity, social justice, and inclusion. Appropriate for anyone interested in the ideas of a culture of peace. WGS 101 or instructor’s permission. Cross listed with PAX 598, PAX 496, and IDS 500. (Yvonne M Thibodeau, Online, 06/26-08/11, #42928) Cr. 3.
